Shani Curry St.Vil, became versed in Personal Finance by boosting her own credit score to become a homeowner at the age of 22. She spent a decade learning the pros and cons of financial products while working as a banker. Shani and her husband passed on an expensive wedding and instead created a real estate portfolio that now includes three properties which are all debt free. Shani has accomplished all of this before reaching 40 along with her real inspirations, her two sons ages four and six.
